Help from the Gray Area

From Proverbs 16:31 it says, "Gray hair is a crown of glory; it is gained in a righteous life." Over the years at luncheons and invites I have chatted with both men and women who are retired and beyond, and I've noticed that many think they've lost their place in society as well as the church.

But guess what? God never placed an expiration date on serving him. There is no moment until our last breath that we aren't to live our lives for his glory. Our church body needs you. We need the gifts and unique life experience of all generations. And there is something particularly helpful to our church family that points to God's faithfulness when you continue to serve, even if the ways you serve have changed across the years.

As Psalm 92:14–15 expresses it, "They still bear fruit in old age; they are ever full of sap and green, to declare that the LORD is upright; he is my rock, and there is no unrighteousness in him."

Sometimes you may not feel that your church wants you to serve. But I will tell you differently, you are loved and needed. Our church members may not always be good at expressing this, but most of us want to grow in communicating our love for you and in helping you find ways to serve in the church body. It is a blessing for a young Christian to be able to follow in your footsteps and to be encouraged by a senior who has already been there.

Sr. Minister Job Search Update

1. Sr. Minister candidate Dan Nicksich & his wife Donna visited Waynesboro on January 24th.

3. An informal meeting was held. We provided several materials for his review, such as budget information, WWCC mission, vision and core values statement, Bylaws, etc.
