Family Camp: Great Services, Amazing Fellowship & Good Times!

The evening Services are recorded and may be found at YouTube Hayden Family Worship Center! hayden family worship center/PCG family camp - YouTube

Bishop Roberts, I want you to know that I had a wonderful time during the week of Family Camp! The teaching was so progressive, cumulative, yet simple in nature. Each day built up upon the previous day. I had a change of attitude of how to minister to at least six different people that I've been ministering to. It is definitely something I needed to hear. It is always wonderful when the Lord tells you something and then you realize that you should've done that all along!

Wayne Broyles

PNW PCG Family Camp 2025 surpassed our expectations. Bishop David & Teresa were wonderful leading the charge for a successful time for all. Reconnecting with long time Brother & Sisters as well as building new Relationships was heart felt! Bishop Phil & Sharon Redding were a God sent, sharing the Rhema both in Word and in Song. Discipleship by Building Relationships leading people to Jesus is the primary Vision. Anointed, Inspiring, Encouraging, Challenging and Life Changing are a few things we brought away from Family Camp! We encourage those who missed the camp meetings to listen to Bishop Redding's messages. The ladies also done a fantastic job preparing meals throughout and was so good! Proverbs 11:30 tells us "The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life, and he who wins souls is wise!"

Ken & Karen Humiston

Family Camp was a blessing. I was not able to get there until Wednesday morning because my sons were visiting from Georgia and Michigan. I did go back and listened to the messages I missed because the 2 days I was there, Bro. Redding delivered an anointed Word from God, and I didn't want to miss out on anything God had for me. I was fed extremely well both in the physical and the spiritual. It was a great time in fellowship with each other and with the Holy Spirit. The words from God excited me spirit and reminded me to Get Ready, Get Ready, Get Ready...Can't wait to see what God has next.

John Oebel

I want to send out a huge thank you that goes beyond words to my cooks: Tammy & Karen. Without these two ladies at my side and even taking over in my absence, I would not have made it through the week. They prepped, cooked, served and cleaned, and as always, with a smile. Thank you for being so dependable. Working with both of you is so positive and supportive, and besides we always have an amazing time together.

We also want to thank Rick and Alesha at FWC, we are sincerely grateful for all your preparation, hard work, and dedication. Always with a smile & uplifting everyone around you. You are truly a blessing.

Rebekah, thank you for jumping in to take care of Youth snack shack. Thank you for having a servant's heart. I truly appreciate you.

Thank you, Worship Center, in Silver Valley, Pastor Corey and coordinator Tamra for all the groceries you supplied for the camp. That was a huge blessing and helped with so much of the cost.

God bless FWC for opening your doors and hosting Family Camp. What an incredible time we had.

And of course, the amazing blessing of finance to help with the budget of the camp was two churches that came together to help support the District for this event. Hayden Family Worship Center & Worship Center in Smelterville. Without their support, we could not have had a Family Camp this year. Thank you! (From Teresa)

God Bless All of You!

Youth Dept. Update - Camp Alacca Youth Camp

From Johny Schuster:

College Internship – Recognizing our summer college interns – Alacca 2025

This summer, our college interns poured out their hearts and lives for nearly seven weeks in relentless service to the Kingdom of God. As ALACCA summer interns, they played a vital role in bringing the hope of Christ to campers through bold testimonies, Gospel centered cabin chats, sacrificial love-in-action, and lives marked by servant-hearted leadership. Each week, they embraced the unique opportunity to disciple kids entrusted to their care-growing deeper in their own walk with Jesus as they guided others toward Him. During their training and their bonding weeks, their summer was also marked by adventure, laughter, and deep friendship. Whether camping along the Lochsa River, whitewater rafting down the Salmon, or enjoying peaceful moments at the beach, these interns lived fully in community-forming bonds and memories that will last a lifetime. Most importantly, this team came together and partnered with Christ in His redemptive work. Because of their faithful service and love, 25 young people stepped out of darkness and into a new life with Christ Jesus. We thank these interns for saying “yes” to the call, for giving their summer to serve, and for being a living testimony to the power of the Gospel.

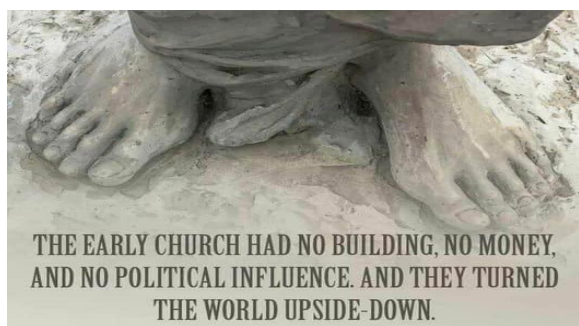

HS Interns – Honoring Our High School Interns

This summer, a special group of high school students stepped up in a powerful way. After attending their own week of camp, these students chose to return-week after week-to serve the younger campers who followed after them. For three additional weeks, they gave their time, energy, and hearts to ALACCA Bible Camp, becoming an essential part of our ministry team. Under the guidance of their college intern mentors, these young leaders dove deep into discipleship. They spent time each day in personal devotions, grew in understanding how to share their testimony, and learned what it means to serve others with the love of Christ. And serve they did-relentlessly. Whether it was in the kitchen, the dish room, the cabins, during chapel, or out on the game field, these interns gave it their all with joy and enthusiasm. Their energy, laughter, and presence brought so much life to camp, creating an environment where younger campers felt welcomed, safe and inspired. In the end, they were not just helpers-they were role models, encouragers, and spiritual influencers. Their impact was deep and lasting, and their willingness to pour into others made a difference that eternity will remember. High school interns, thank you. You are vital to the mission of this camp and to the lives of the campers you’ve touched.

From the Bishop's Desk –

We had a wonderful time in Phoenix at General Assembly! Excited to announce our new General Bishop Virgil Kincaid, General Secretary Kelly Lineberry, Global Missions Director Karl Hargestam, and Women's Ministry Director Jainie Kincaid! The services were outstanding, preaching anointed, and the fellowship was fabulous. Would love to have many ministers travel with us in 2 years to our next General Assembly! I had the privilege of receiving my brothers 40-year Ordination pin at General Assembly and then presented in person at Pastor Claude Roberts' church before his congregation on June 29th! July was a very busy month, so blessed to attend Family Camp at FWC in Hayden, so good to have the Redding's ministering in the Northwest again! They are no strangers to this District, they have ministered 2 District Youth Camps, one District Family Camp besides this one, a General Youth Directors Rally Tour, and a Marrieds Retreat! They feel at home with us, very connected and recognize that God has connected us for Kingdom purposes. Many years ago (around 45) when I was a young man I attended Family Camp at Conconully WA, Bro. Redding Sr. (Phil's Dad) preached that Family Camp and on the last night he preached about the Great Commission, "Who will go", I answered that call, wept in an old fashioned altar not knowing all the things that God was or would be placing in my heart but what I knew then and definitely know now, I want to be in this great harvest, and make disciples of all nations, make disciples that will make disciples. We are thankful for our District Youth Director Johny Schuster and his wife Bailey, they did a great job at all of the camps again this year, Johny already has our National Youth Director Randy Lawrence on the hook for ministering next year's Youth Camp! Make plans now to send your kids to Youth Camp, 80% of all pastors report that they received their call into the ministry at a Youth Camp!!! Yours truly received his call at a General Youth Rally under the great Gary Johnson back in 1978! And at next General Assembly in 2 years, I will receive my 40-year Ordination pin. We are celebrating a completed project at Cross Pointe in Covington WA, they now have fully functional restrooms due to a new installed septic system and drain field, which was no small feat! Praise the Lord! Congratulations Pastor Nate Robinson for your many hours of work along with District Presbyter Mark Hicks, thank you to everyone that contributed to this cause! Pastor Nate has already stated their desire at Cross Pointe is to pay the District back with the intent that the money will be in Home Missions for future projects similar to Cross Pointe's need, thank you Pastor Nate, love your heart, so thankful, responsible, and having the vision to sow into the next need in our great District! Praise the Lord the projects in Waitsburg is complete, God is so good! Our next big project is ongoing at New Hope Chapel in Yakima WA, the roofing material has been purchased, and we are now coordinating a weekend for the tear-off, August 8th and 22nd! We need volunteers that will catch the vision with us that there are souls to save in Yakima, God has given us this ground, now may the Kingdom advance at New Hope Chapel!

August we are featuring our Pastors of House of Prayer, East Wenatchee, WA.

Roby & Connie Roberson

A Legacy of Miracles, Ministry, and Unshakable Truth

Bro. Roby & Sis. Connie Roberson

House of Prayer – East Wenatchee, WA

Serving faithfully since 1987

Some testimonies unfold like quiet chapters. Others burst onto the page with unmistakable divine encounters. For Bro. Roby and Sis. Connie Roberson, their lives are marked by both—tender beginnings, radical transformations, miraculous timing, and a ministry forged in faith and fire.

Sis. Connie first heard the name of Jesus as a little girl attending a Missionary Baptist church across the alley from her home on the reservation in Omak, Washington. But it was in her mother's yellow rose garden that she met Him. Just five or six years old, she recognized the nail prints in His hands and feet. "He laid His hands on my head," she remembers, "and told me I was going to do a great work for Him." From that moment, she was determined to never miss Sunday school.

While her faith was budding in Omak, Roby was being raised in Everett in a strong Christian family, active at Bethany Temple Assembly of God. He was known as an outstanding young believer—recognized with awards and deeply involved in church life. But in his teen years, a love for mechanics and speed pulled him into the world of fast cars, drag racing, and eventually alcohol. His first drink on September 4, 1966, led to 17 years of spiritual captivity.

In 1968, Roby barely survived a horrific rollover crash. Trapped under the car for three hours and in a full-body cast for eleven months, doctors now refer to his spine as "trashed." And yet, he walks—a living, breathing miracle with mobility that has baffled specialists for decades. "Unfortunately, throughout my 39 year PCG family relationship, I'm no longer recognized by hitting home runs at church camp as before but by my forward leaning, bent over posture from that accident." He says.

Connie, too, survived multiple near-death car accidents during her teenage years. Paramedics repeatedly said, "It's a miracle she's alive." But she didn't realize just how miraculous her life had been until a service at a PCG church in Oroville. A young man named David Roberts—without knowing her—prophesied that God had saved her twice and this was her final call. She ran to the altar and gave her life completely to Jesus Christ.

A few years later, on the morning of September 10, 1983, Roby awoke on the cement floor of his Stevens Pass auto shop. His shotgun was clamped in a vice, wire wrapped around his bloody wrist, and despair wrapped around his soul. It was his prodigal moment. “Like the son in Luke 15, I came to myself,” he says. “the realization of who I was and what I had become came crashing down on me like a ton of bricks. I didn’t need anyone to point out my sin. I just broke.” With tears puddling on the floor, he cried out, “Lord, if You’ll do everything my family says You can do for me, I’ll do everything I’m supposed to do.”

He would never be the same.

Soon after, Roby was delivering food to the local Hospitality House when he walked in holding two cases of hamburger patties—just as the men inside were praying, “Lord, we haven’t had meat in a while. Please help us.” The administrator looked up in disbelief. Roby recalls, “I couldn’t believe what I heard—and they couldn’t believe what they saw.” He called his mom that day, overwhelmed: “Mom, the Lord used me as an angel!”. He later became the chaplain and administrator there, serving for years.

One day, before cell phones were common, Roby was in Wenatchee and stopped at Denny’s to respond to a page from the State Patrol. As he left the payphone, a man grabbed his arm and asked, “Are you the towing guy from Stevens Pass who just got saved?” Roby said yes, and the man asked if he’d be willing to testify at his church. He agreed—and that service would change everything.

The night for his testimony came. He rolled up on his Harley with the rest of the Christian Crusaders with his long beard, chains dangling – some with knives on their hips – we weren’t your typical church goers. And there, sitting behind a piano bench, was Sis. Connie. She had dreamed of this man—literally. “I almost fell off the bench when he walked in,” she laughs. “I had seen him in my dreams before I ever met him.”

That was the night Roby and Connie first saw each other. “I was so impressed with the congregation and the pastor,” Roby recalls, “that I ended up auctioning off my business, moving to Wenatchee, and settling into that church—where Connie and I were eventually married.”

The Lord wasn’t just restoring two lives—He was building a ministry.

As their love for evangelism grew, so did their involvement in missions, jail ministry, and outreach. Roby was eventually encouraged to pursue his Exhorter’s License with the Pentecostal Church of God. Around September of 1987, they were attending a PCG church in Monitor, WA, when Superintendent Lawrence Haddock called with a simple request: could they unlock the doors of a vacant church in East Wenatchee “just in case someone shows up” that Sunday? It had no pews, no piano, no congregation—just bare, empty floors. Connie calls it “Dry Bones,” like the song she and her daughter sing. Yet the Holy Spirit filled the room from day one. “I remember looking over my shoulder as he preached his first sermon on wives being submissive to their husbands – thinking, surely someone else has walked in.” she chuckles “But it was just me.”

They said yes—and have been there ever since. By October of 1987, they were officially pastoring what would become House of Prayer.

Though they walked with the Lord, Connie says it was a deep trial in 1995 that brought her to a new level of knowing Jesus. “We were found not guilty by 12 jurors, praise the Lord. That trial taught me to trust in Him like never before.” Her favorite verse—Proverbs 3:5-6—has been her steady anchor:

- “Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct your paths.”

Over the years, the church has seen both full altars and empty chairs. It once operated the largest food bank in Eastern Washington. Today, it quietly serves through the Daily Bread and Chips Pantry on the church’s front porch, offering tortillas, chips, and whatever else God provides for those in need.

Bro. Roby and Sis. Connie have poured themselves into the work of the Lord without compromise— Because in a world chasing trends, they’ve chosen truth. They preach the real Word — meat, not milk — and are committed to discipleship over entertainment. In a world of watered-down messages, this church clings to the cross and the deep, soul-shaking truths found in timeless hymns like “The Old Rugged Cross.” “Because, let’s face it, the newer worship music is nothing like it used to be. Theologically sound hymns will always be favored in this church.” He says.

Their daughter Rebekah often says, “Some might call us old-fashioned, but I’ve never been moved and brought to my knees by anything else like ‘The Old Rugged Cross.’ Hymns carry weight. They preach.”

This year (2025) has been one of major change and fresh direction for the Roberson family. After praying for a way to bring their daughter Rebekah and her family back to Wenatchee to help in the ministry, the Lord made a way. The Roberson’s traded their longtime home for two places just blocks from the church. Rebekah, James, and their sons Korbyn (age 15) and Kashtyn (almost 2) now live in the front house. Rebekah works at Colonial Vista Senior Living, James at A’s RV, and little Kash keeps Connie busy chasing him around during the day while the family works.

Family Camp in Idaho, under the preaching and teaching of Bishop Redding, lit a fresh fire under the entire family—especially Rebekah. “Before we even unloaded the RV, she was already suggesting changes,” Roby says. “With this new enthusiasm and help, we have nothing but wonderful plans for the future.”

The now extended Roberson/Osborn family continues to serve the Lord with rekindled purpose. Their music ministry reaches into nursing homes and senior communities. Their preaching remains bold, their church committed to truth, and their Gospel undiluted.

“We can celebrate the victories of the past,” Roby reflects—“the growth of the food bank, the courtroom miracles, even a FOX News documentary (In The Valley of Sin). But the greatest thing now is looking ahead to what the Lord is about to do.”

Roby has never forgotten the first words Superintendent Haddock spoke to him: “Brother Roberson, don’t ever refuse correction—be open and teachable.” He also clings to the prophecy spoken over him at White Pass Camp:

“Let us not grow weary in well doing, for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.” (Galatians 6:9)

“I believe the dash of my life (from Bro. Lane’s poem “Dash Between The Dates”)—from September 10th, 1983 until now—has been fully redeemed by the blood of Jesus,” he says. “That dashed life before is covered. And today, we’re standing—stronger than ever—by His grace.”

“We’re still here,” says Sis. Connie. “We’re not discouraged. God is in control. There’s no better place to be than in God’s house.”
