

Community Rec Magazine

www.communityrecmag.com

Community Rec Magazine is working tirelessly to deliver timely resources to the community recreation industry during the COVID-19 crisis, including creating a COVID-19 resource page, COVID-19 LinkedIn Group for rec professionals, and numerous articles highlighting how rec centers are continuing to serve their communities.

For suppliers in the industry, we're offering free COVID social media posts for any supplier with news or updates regarding COVID and how they are helping the industry get through. Email info@communityrecmag.com for additional information.
