Warm Up
In the sermon, we saw that this community's vibrant life flows out of being transformed by the Gospel (Acts 2:14-41). Take time to hear from some or all members of your small group:
How has the Gospel transformed you? To put it another way: Looking at your life, who would you be if not for Jesus' radical saving grace?

Spend a few moments in prayer, thanking God for his work in us.

Digging Deeper
Read Acts 2:42-47, and then use the following inductive Bible study steps to explore this passage.

1. Observe – What do you notice in the text…What is the context? What is happening? Who are the characters? What ideas or words are being repeated? Spend time asking these types of questions
2. Interpret – What is being said in the text…What is being communicated? Why is this passage important? What is the meaning of this passage? Take time to ask questions that go beyond observation and dig deeper into the text.
3. Apply – What do I do with this information…How does this impact my life? How does this impact my understanding of who God is? What can I take from this text and apply to my daily circumstances? Ask questions that get personal and help you to apply what you have learned.

Revisit the ten traits of the Acts 2:42-47 community that were discussed in the sermon.
Where do you see each in the text? What moves you about this early church?

1. They're devoted to learning.
2. They're devoted to fellowship.
3. They're devoted to worshiping together.
4. God is at work among them, and it moves them to praise.
5. Their unity runs deeper than their differences.
6. They sacrifice to take care of each other.
7. They prioritize time together.
8. They eat together a lot.
9. The neighborhood is better off because they're there.
10. God brings multiplication.

Final Thoughts
As you look at this picture of the early church, where do you see our church reflected in it? What are you grateful for in our community? Where do you long for more? What part might God be asking you to play?
