

Sermon Based Small Group Questions – 10/22/17

- 1) Does prophecy intrigue you or frustrate you? Or both?
- 2) Of the options listed in the sermon, or others you might share, why do people want to know the details about future things?
- 3) How might our view of America today, or the American church, be much like the disciples view of the Temple and Jerusalem?
- 4) Why does Jesus not answer specifically the questions the disciples asked Him about the “last days?” Read Matthew 24:36. How does this factor into your answer?
- 5) Matthew 25:1-13. What does Jesus intend to teach us through this parable?
- 6) If this was the first time you read/heard about the events of the “last days” (remember the fact that we are living in the last days now), what emotions and/or thoughts got stirred up in you?
- 7) Of the 9 interpretations given in the sermon of what Jesus’ answers meant, which one(s) struck you most?
- 8) How has this sermon changed your approach, or understanding, of the “last days?”
- 9) In response to this sermon, should the church pursue studies on the “end times”? Why or why not?

Sermon Based Small Group Questions – 10/22/17

- 1) Does prophecy intrigue you or frustrate you? Or both?
- 2) Of the options listed in the sermon, or others you might share, why do people want to know the details about future things?
- 3) How might our view of America today, or the American church, be much like the disciples view of the Temple and Jerusalem?
- 4) Why does Jesus not answer specifically the questions the disciples asked Him about the “last days?” Read Matthew 24:36. How does this factor into your answer?
- 5) Matthew 25:1-13. What does Jesus intend to teach us through this parable?
- 6) If this was the first time you read/heard about the events of the “last days” (remember the fact that we are living in the last days now), what emotions and/or thoughts got stirred up in you?
- 7) Of the 9 interpretations given in the sermon of what Jesus’ answers meant, which one(s) struck you most?
- 8) How has this sermon changed your approach, or understanding, of the “last days?”
- 9) In response to this sermon, should the church pursue studies on the “end times”? Why or why not?